

Animal Management (Cats & Dogs) Act 2008

Upskill your Animal Control Officers.

Synopsis

In Queensland, Animal Management/Control Officers play an important role in enforcing animal-related regulations and ensuring the wellbeing of animals within their jurisdiction. Officers enforce Queensland's animal control laws, respond to complaints, capture and impound animals, assist with disease control, educate the public, investigate animal bites and attacks, rescue distressed animals, and collaborate with Police and Wildlife Services to address animal control, public safety, and wildlife management.

Peak's Animal Management (Cats & Dogs) Act 2008 workshop has been developed to ensure Animal Management Officers and senior staff are kept up-to-date with the most recent legislation pertaining to the Act, so they can carry out their obligations in both a lawful and effective manner.

Topics include:

- Animal Management Act 2008 and Regulations 2019.
- Update on banned dog breeds item 2.2.1 The Agriculture and Fisheries and Other Legislation Amendment Bill 2023
- Purpose and understanding of the Act/Definitions.
- Act vs Regulations vs Code of Practice.
- Penalties and offences.
- The Act discussed.
- Safety.
- Situational awareness.

Our trainers

Our specialist facilitators bring years of Local Government training experience to guiding and inspiring participants, helping them build confidence and capability across a wide range of disciplines. Join us for this lively, instructor-led, interactive, and practical course designed to enhance skills and support participants in navigating real-world challenges.

Audience

- Local Laws Officers
- Animal Management Officers
- Rangers

Workshop details

Delivery: In-house or virtual.

Duration: 4-5 hour interactive workshop.

Class size: Maximum 15.

Price: Please contact Peak Services for course fees or a proposal for on-site or in-house training.