

Executive Leadership Series

Good governance and community leadership

The executive team need to work closely with the mayor and councillors in abiding by what has been described as the four principles of governance — accountability, transparency, fairness, and responsibility — serving the interests of all stakeholders and the community.

Good governance goes hand in hand with community leadership and community engagement. Good governance involves ensuring that there is sufficient ongoing dialogue with the community in matters of direct concern to them.

This workshop will assist participants to identify key elements of good governance and appraise the effectiveness of their community leadership and engagement.

Course Content

- The executive team’s role in good governance and community leadership
- Links between council’s administrative arm (CEO, etc.) and executive arm (Mayor, etc.)
- Good governance as per the Local Government Act 2009
- Key principles of good governance
- Why is good governance so important?
- The consequences of poor governance
- Governance case studies/scenarios
- What is community leadership?
- Building social cohesion in the community
- How does your council rate with governance and community leadership?
- Community leadership case studies/scenarios

Course Details

- Delivery: Inhouse
- Structure: Interactive Workshop
- Time: Half ½ day
- Class Size: Max 15
- Cost: On request

The Trainer

With over 32 years’ experience in the human resources and management consulting fields, Narayan has provided a vast array of training and services to a range of organisations, including Local, State and Federal government agencies.

Narayan provides a very strong adult learning focus to his training. He ensures that it is experiential, practical and closely linked to workplace needs and realities.

He is also consistently described by clients as highly enthusiastic, creative and dynamic in his approach.